Education Week 2022

The first version of education week will take place during week 14. This is a week for you as a student to learn more about your time at LiU, about your ability to influence your education and your rights as a student.

The education week is arranged by Consensus' Educational Committee with representatives from all nine sections at the faculty of medicine and health science. Each day will have a specific theme and the information spread will be on your section's social media.

Become an international fadder during fall semester 2022

You can now apply to become a fadder for an exchange student this autumn.

As a fadder you sign up to becoming his or hers contact person in matters such as how Sweden works and the social life at Linköping University. You will contact the student before arrival and help to prepare for his stay here. During the student's time in Linköping/Norrköping, you will be available as support in case problems should arise as well as to integrate the exchange student with the Swedish students.

Does this sound like something for you? Contact Marjan at international@consensus.liu.se.
