ChatGPT

All faculties at LiU are discussing the newest boom in digital resources, which is ChatGPT. The discussions mainly concern the approach of the education programs and how examinations are affected by AI. Consensus participates in these discussions and highlights how students are affected by this and what students need to know about AI for future professions.

Research-related education

For the past two months, the faculty and Consensus have worked with a MedFak joint explanation and view of what research-related education entails and what opportunities for research the students should be offered during their studies. The work aims to clarify and strengthen the studies' research connection, as well as draw students' attention to the research opportunities within the respective field of study.

Overnight conference with the Education board

At the beginning of February, Consensus participated with three representatives at an overnight conference with the Education board at the Medical Faculty. During the meeting days, all program managers and the faculty met to, among other things, discuss common issues such as equal conditions and internationalization. Consensus organized a discussion point regarding vulnerability and harassment within the academy, which generated many thoughts from all participants.

Introduction of Program Director

After the autumn's Student Leadership Council, it was decided that it was the task of each faculty to map out the possibility of student representation in case of new and re-election of the program director. At MedFak, work will therefore begin during this spring, which we hope will lead to a closer and stronger collaboration between the program director and the relevant section. This is a step in the right direction, and Consensus will continue to work for greater involvement in the decision.

Internationalization

In 2022, the unions jointly started an action plan for internationalization for Linköping University and includes four target areas. The action plan has now been checked by the principal and is back with the student unions, before it can be completed. Internally for Consensus, the work on internationalization within the Consensus organization continues. Consensus has held discussions within the board, in FUM, with other student unions in Sweden and together with BioMed, which will also continue during March. This is with the aim of mapping out wishes and opportunities and will end up in another action plan for internal internationalization.

SFS Members meeting

Parts of the Consensus SFS delegation have participated in the SFS member meeting in Stockholm. At this members' meeting, topics that could be the subject of future proposals and motions to the upcoming SFS-FUM in May were discussed. During the meeting, SFS budget and what the member unions would like to see the board work with in the coming years were also discussed.

CARMA 2023

On February 16, approximately 30 exhibitors from across the southeast healthcare region took over Växthuset for Consensus' annual job market fair. Employers came from both regions and municipalities to meet students. The exhibitors have given positive feedback for the event and we hope that you students appreciated the opportunity to meet potential employers as much!

Reception period 2023

The reception 2023 has ended and just like the autumn reception, this is the first full-scale reception for the students starting in the spring semester since the start of the pandemic spring term 2020. Consensus has been around and met the new students on both campus walks, the Nollolympiad and at our own arranged Nollephesten. Just like many other things, this new start has brought a lot of joy and a lot of lessons that we can take with us in our continued work. Evaluation questionnaires will be sent out in the near future.
